MICHIGAN BASEBALL MAJOR LEAGUE WOLVERINES

COOPERSTOWN

The Wolverines have had three members of the University of Michigan baseball family inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown. George Sisler was inducted in 1939 and lettered at U-M in 1913, '14 and '15. He played for the St. Louis Browns, Washington Senators and Boston Braves and held the Major League record for hits in a season (257) until 2004. Branch Rickey, who is credited with inventing the modern farm system, pioneering the utilization of statistics and breaking the color barrier by signing Jackie Robinson, was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1967. Rickey coached U-M from 1910-13 while attending the Michigan Law School. Then in January, Barry Larkin received 86.4 percent of the vote by members of the Baseball Writers' Association and will be inducted into the Hall of Fame in July of 2012. Larkin was a 12-time All-Star and nine-time Silver Slugger honoree while playing 19 years for the Cincinnati Reds. He was the 1995 National League Most Valuable Player and won three Gold Gloves at shortstop.

BRANCH RICKEY AWARD

The Branch Rickey Award is given annually to a Major League Baseball player in recognition of their exceptional community service. The award is named for former player and executive Branch Rickey, who is best known as the President and General Manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and as the executive who broke the major league color barrier. The award was created by the Rotary Club in Denver and was first awarded in 1992.

MICHIGAN BASEBALL COLLEGE WORLD SERIES TEAMS

The University of Michigan baseball team has made seven trips to the College World Series in Omaha, Neb., with the 1953 team coached by Ray Fisher, and the 1962 team coached by Don Lund collecting NCAA championships. Moby Benedict led the Wolverines to a fifth-place finish in 1978, and Bud Middaugh's Wolverines placed fifth in 1980, seventh in 1981, third in 1983 and seventh in 1984.

► Pitching was the key factor for the success of the Wolverines in the 1953 College World Series as coach Ray Fisher did not need to call on the bullpen in the first three games. Marvin Wisniewski, Jack Corbett and Jack Ritter hurled complete games to give Michigan a 3-0 mark.

► Following a loss to Texas, Wisniewski started the final game of the series and Ritter collected a save, getting the final two outs with the bases loaded in a 7-5 win over Texas.

► Danny Cline's bases loaded single off the wall provided the winning margin in the eighth inning despite the fact that Michigan had three players on second base during that winning hit. The pro scouts named shortstop Bruce Haynam as Michigan's outstanding player.

► One of the highlights of the 1962 season came before Michigan reached the College World Series during regional action in Kalamazoo, Mich. Lefty senior John Kerr pitched 19 innings the same day as Michigan -- an at-large selection in the regional -- knocked off Big Ten champ Illinois, 5-1, and Mid-American champion Western Michigan, 3-2, in 10 innings.

► Once in College World Series action, Jim Bobel became a factor winning two games in relief after injuries kept him out of action most of the season. Bobel collected the win in Michigan's 15-inning championship victory over Santa Clara. In fact, Bobel drove in a run in the 15th with a triple and scored the winner as Michigan topped Santa Clara's ace Bob Garibaldi.

► A highlight in the series opener was a 3-1 win over Texas in which Dick Honig and Ron Tate combined on a two-out hit-and-run play which became easy runs when Tate's drive to right turned out to be a homer.

Moby Benedict's 1978 squad jumped off to a great start as sophomore Steve Howe beat Baylor, 4-0, on a one-hitter as Vic Ray smashed a three-run homer. However, Southern California scored eight runs in the first inning of the second game in an 11-3 win, and North Carolina sent Michigan home when Greg Robinson hit a three-run homer off Howe in the eighth inning in the third game of the series.

1980

Bud Middaugh's first Michigan team swept through regional play and met California in the opener of the College World Series. U-M topped the Bears, 9-8, in 11 innings in one of the wildest games in CWS history. Catcher Gerry Hool's three-run double with two outs in the 11th gave Michigan a 9-6 lead, but it took a great running catch by Jim Pacionek in right to end the game. Pacionek captured the hearts of the fans, reaching base nine times in a row, including 7-for-7 and two walks, to spark the Michigan offense. He went 4-for-4 in a 3-2 loss to Miami as Michigan was limited to five hits, the other was a single by freshman second baseman Jeff Jacobson.

Michigan's stay in the 1981 College World Series lasted just two games. The Wolverines had plenty of chances early against Mississippi State, but failed to score even with a bases loaded situation with one out in the third inning. Omaha native Mark Gillespie hit a three-run homer as MSU won 4-0. Michigan dropped its second game to Texas, 6-5, in a game the Wolverines led 5-2 before a 45 minute rain delay changed the momentum. Greg Schulte and Dave Stober each had three hits, but Texas used a weather-aided three-run rally in the ninth to win the game. Jacobson walked to lead off the ninth for Michigan, but he was cut down at the plate on a perfect relay after Schulte doubled.

The Wolverines placed third, tying with Arizona State by dividing four games. Michigan won the opener, 6-5, over Maine with Chris Sabo collecting three hits, including a three-run homer, while freshman shortstop Barry Larkin had two doubles. Alabama jumped to a 6-0 lead in the second game, but Michigan rallied behind Jeff Jacobson's three hits and had the tying and winning runs on base in the bottom of the ninth before losing, 6-5. Rich Stoll pitched his second solid victory as Michigan topped Stanford, 11-4, with a seven-run rally in the ninth inning, highlighted by Sabo's game-winning double and a grand slam by freshman Casey Close. Co-captain Rich Bair had three hits including a triple and a homer. Texas eliminated the Wolverines again before clinching the title against Alabama, but it wasn't easy as the Wolverines jumped to a 2-0 lead on a double by Ken Hayward, a single by Jacobson and another RBI-single by Bair.

Freshman Scott Kamieniecki lost his touch in the bottom of the fifth inning with a pair of walks, a single to load the bases and a grand slam homer by Mike Brumley. The Longhorns collected just six hits, but it was enough for the win.

The Wolverines placed in a tie for seventh, losing two games. In the opener, eventual champion Cal State Fullerton beat Michigan, 8-4, and then New Orleans beat Michigan 11-3. Senior Gary Wayne pitched his heart out in the opener with seven strikeouts. Michigan tied the game, 1-1, in the third inning on Ken Hayward's fielder's choice that scored Barry Larkin and took the lead in the sixth inning on a run-scoring pinch double by Chuck Froning and a two-out single by Matt Siuda. With Michigan leading 4-3, Cal State Fullerton scored five runs in the bottom of the eighth. The Wolverines should have escaped the inning with no worse than a tie as a replay showed Wolverine Rich Bair making a tag play on a squeeze bunt that was ruled a run. Scott Kamieniecki, who beat Central Michigan with a complete game to win the regional, tried to bounce back three days later and lost to New Orleans. Mike Watters collected a pair of hits to give him four two-hit games in College World Series play. Kurt Zimmerman moved his postseason hitting streak to nine games and belted a long home run to break up a shut out bid by David Lynch of New Orleans.

WILPON BASEBALL COMPLEX HOME OF HISTORIC RAY FISHER STADIUM

On May 2, 2008, the University of Michigan officially dedicated the Wilpon Baseball Complex, home of historic Ray Fisher Stadium, capping a $9 million renovation project that began in 2006. The occasion was marked with the Wolverines defeating rival Ohio State, 4-1, to cap off a re-birth of Michigan baseball.

Thanks in large part to the generosity of Fred and Judy Wilpon, the Michigan baseball team now enjoys one of the top facilities in the nation. Mr. Wilpon, the principle owner, chairman and CEO of the New York Mets, and his wife were on hand for dedication ceremonies, as were members of Michigan's 1953 and 1962 NCAA champion baseball teams.

The architecture includes brick and stone, consistent with that of the central athletic campus. The stands are barrier-free and include 2,500 seats, of which 1,700 have seatbacks. Add in lawn and portable seating options and the Wilpon Complex can house 4,500 spectators. A three-story addition includes administrative offices, a state-of-the-art press box, improved public restrooms, concession areas and a ticket office.

Adjacent to the stadium is a 1,600-square foot locker room that features 30-inch lockers, five plasma television screens, a lounge area, a training room and a new nutrition lounge. The locker room connects directly to the 5,750-square-foot indoor hitting facility that includes retractable doors for ventilation during the summer months and is heated for year-round use. The hitting facility includes two dirt mounds, pitching machines, three indoor batting cages and a state-of-the-art video hitting system. Along the leftfield line are three outdoor hitting cages.

In 2008, twenty-two years after it last hosted an NCAA baseball regional, the brand-new Wilpon Complex was selected as one of 16 regional sites for the 2008 NCAA Baseball Championship and a starting point for the road to Omaha, Neb., and the NCAA College World Series.

After moving from Regents Field in the early 1900s, the Michigan baseball team played on the site where Yost Ice Arena currently stands. During this time, the layout of the stadium was changed many times to adjust to the wooden stands that were brought over from Ferry Field. When construction of Yost Fieldhouse began in 1921, the baseball stadium was moved 150 feet west, replacing locker and shower facilities that had stood there since 1912.

Completed in 1923 under the Ferry Field name, Baseball at the University of Michigan has been played on its current site since that season. The grandstands were originally constructed in 1948.

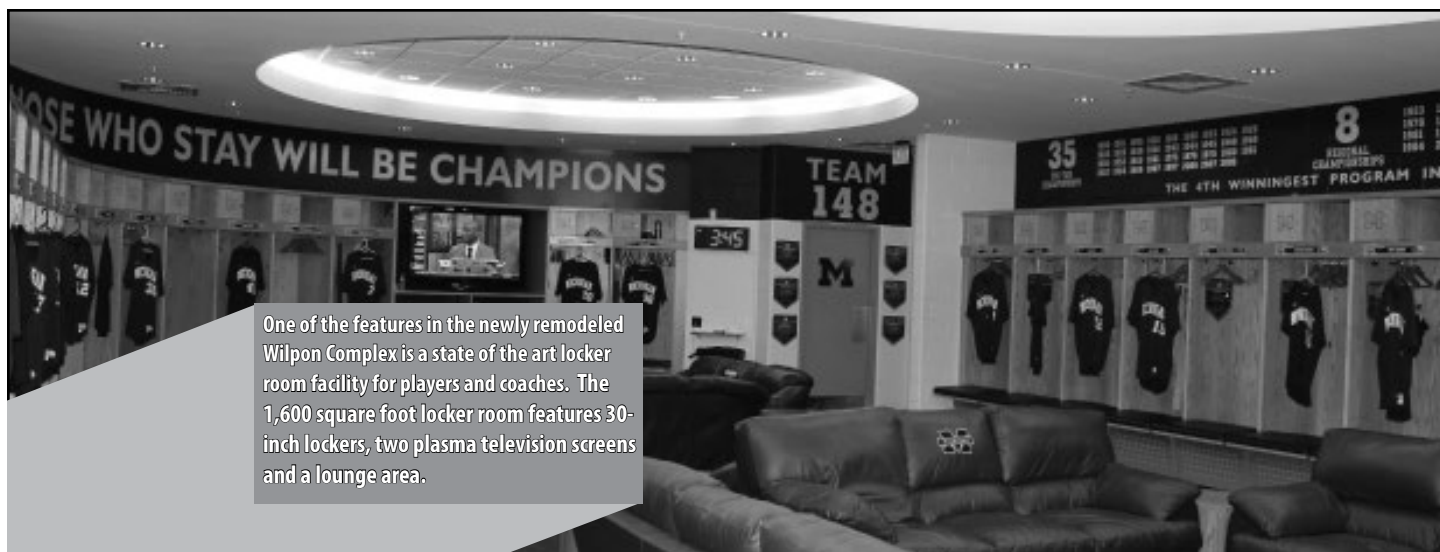

In 1967 the stadium was dedicated to Ray Fisher, head coach of the Wolverine baseball team from 1921-58. Fisher led his teams to a 636-295-8 record, 15 Big Ten Conference titles and U-M's first College World Series title in 1953.

The ballpark was enclosed in 1967 when then head coach Moby Benedict installed the outfield fence with the dimensions including 330 down the lines, 375 in the gaps and 400 to dead center. The fencing lasted 30 years before being replaced prior to the 1997 season. The Wolverines' old locker room was added under the stadium in 1965, and in 1973, Fisher Stadium saw renovations which included steel stands that replaced wooden ones, and in 1983 new wooden bleachers were installed.

The baseball coaching staff moved into offices in the stadium in the fall of 1991, which were then renovated in 2002.

Now widely recognized as one of the top ballparks in all of collegiate baseball, the Wilpon Complex/Ray Fisher Stadium has also attracted many outside organizations with numerous high school baseball tournaments and camps utilize the complex. In addition to hosting Michigan's regular-season games, Fisher Stadium has also been the site of several Big Ten Conference Baseball Tournaments.

WILPON BASEBALL COMPLEX HOME OF HISTORIC RAY FISHER STADIUM

One of the features in the newly remodeled Wilpon Complex is a state of the art locker room facility for players and coaches. The 1,600 square foot locker room features 30-inch lockers, two plasma television screens and a lounge area.
